

Digital Cable and High Speed Internet service out for 5 days. Technician a no show and still can't get service. Customer Service consistently says it is "only happening at this address" every time the service goes out. I have spent numerous hours taking off work and waiting for technicians only for it to be proven that it is NOT just my apartment.

Why can't something be done about such poor Customer Service?